WRITER'S PARADISE

MY WAY

I saw the most peaceful town,
 And a forest to which I was drawn.
 I went through the peaceful meadows,
 And saw a well-dressed fellow.
 I asked him about the woods,
 He said that it will do lot of good.
 I was intrigued and excited,
 I made up my mind to move ahead.
 I went towards the woods,
 With my dear horse, Augustus.
 I went through the woods,
 Straight to the town, where I could sell my goods.
 I thank my comrade on that day,
 I was happy to explore the woods, my way.

GOD'S GIFT - MOTHER

When I come home with a tear,
 My mother is the one always there.
 Her tender smile makes my day,
 She's the light to guide my way.
 Her joyful heart is always clear,
 Oh! My mother you are always there.
 Late nights when my fever was so severe,
 God knows from where you used to appear.
 I grew up so fast year by year,
 She always supported me to choose my career.
 You are the best as I choose none other,
 Even gold is not as pure as her – my mother!!

Harshini L. – Grade 7

THE TENET

Live like a flower,
 Smiling in the storm,
 Fly like an eagle,
 Never fall down.
 Give like nature,
 Never ask back,
 Work like the sun,
 But don't forget to have fun.
 Live like the great,
 Who never could wait,
 Pristine like a swan,
 Always cherishing its clan.
 Be humble like a sparrow,
 Never give up like a shadow,
 Embrace life like a garland,
 Let it shine like a diamond.

Sai Hasini K. – Grade 9

INDIA – MY MOTHERLAND

The Entire Country is glowing with freedom,
 All living things are feeling its spectrum,
 The cost they are willing to give,
 So freedom can continue to live.
 We have the power to act, speak and rule,
 The law supports us like a tool.
 With our proud wings and eyes,
 We can soar high and observe without a sigh.
 Today we must not forget those noble souls,
 Who aimed for freedom as a goal,
 They stood for the tricolour flag,
 They stood for our nation without a lag.
 We should never forget our heritage,
 And use our freedom with great Privilege.
 We celebrate our freedom with gratitude,
 And promise to live a life of fortitude.

MY PROFOUND ENDEAVOURS

Ms. Tinsy - Faculty Member, Social Science Department

Growing up in the vibrant city of Dubai, my academic journey began with an insatiable appetite for knowledge. As a learning enthusiast, I secured the top position in three subjects during my 10th-grade year in Dubai, setting the stage for my future pursuits. My educational odyssey led me to the distinguished corridors of CMR Engineering College, where I delved into the realm of Electronics and Communication Engineering and followed it up with MBA in Market research.

Beyond the confines of textbooks and lecture halls, I discovered my aptitude for sports. Thus, Throwball, Badminton, Kho Kho, and Basketball became not just recreational activities but instilled in me the values of teamwork, discipline, and perseverance.

However, my passion for teaching eclipsed all other pursuits. The catalyst for this transformative choice was a remarkable Math teacher whose teaching methods I idealized. Driven by the desire to emulate and surpass that influence, I ventured into the noble profession of shaping young minds.

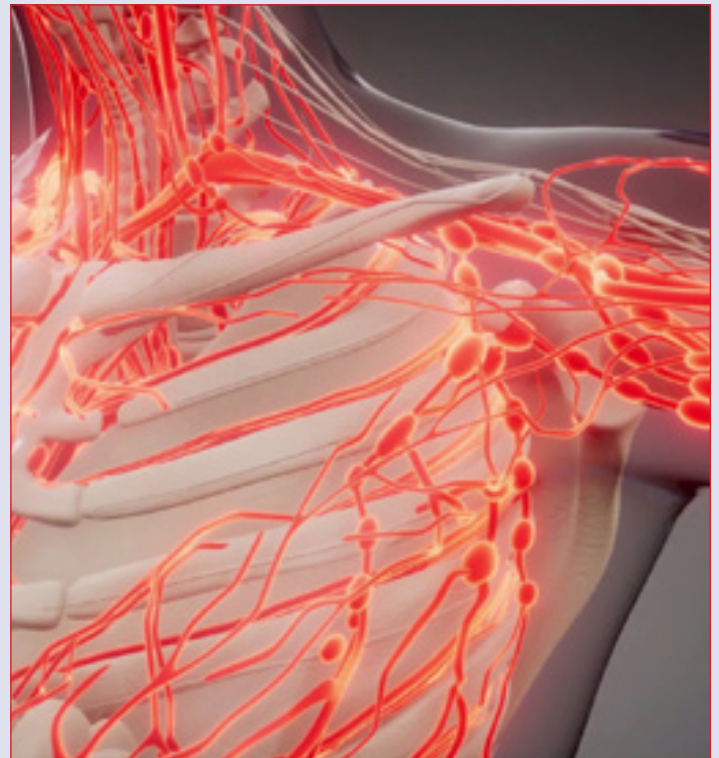

Beyond the conventional realms of education and travel, I sought avenues for self-expression through the arts. I honed the art of calligraphy through self-teaching, and my pursuit of creativity extended to 3D animation courses. This artistic inclination found a tangible form in the meticulous curation of softboards in my classroom, each reflecting the thought and expression embedded in my educational philosophy.

Possessing a meticulous and organized demeanour, I am relentlessly active, embracing a philosophy that believes in being busy as a testament to a purposeful life. I believe time-management is the key to unlocking my full potential. As I continue to navigate the intricate labyrinth of life, I remain steadfast in my belief that every moment is an opportunity for growth and self-discovery.

Healthy Side: Exploring the Marvels of Bone Marrow

Welcome to the intriguing world of the bone marrow—the silent master who composes the music of life in our bodies. Deep in our bones, these humble, sponge-like muscles play an important role in maintaining our health and vitality.

Let's unravel the mystery of haematopoiesis, a process in which the bone marrow is central to our existence – blood. The cells in that microorganism become red blood cells, white blood cells and platelets, each with a specific mission. Red blood cells carry oxygen, white blood cells protect against infection, and platelets help clot blood, preventing high blood pressure.

In addition to its role as a cell factory, bone marrow is an active partner in our immune system. The immune system that is born around it protects itself from invaders, creating a strong defence mechanism that allows us to cope.

Now, visualize the versatility of bone marrow. It not only sustains life but also serves as a beacon of hope in treatments. New tissue from the right donors can replace damaged tissue, giving those inflicted with serious diseases, a better life.

In conclusion, bone marrow, with its astonishing capabilities, deserves our admiration. Let us appreciate this hidden gem by recognizing its indispensable role in our well-being. As we explore the wonders of our bodies, let us never lose sight of the quiet wonder that is the bone marrow – the essence of life.
